INCUMBENTS GET TWO WEEKS' NOTICE

Collector of Internal Revenue Warmlist home with him last night, and made a heroic effort to get it finally in shape, but was not by any means certain that it would be completed within 48 hours. There are 110 appointments to make, and the claims of nine Congressmen and 24 counties have to be taken into consideration, for the Collector says frankly that he believes in home

It is understood that Mr. Warmenstle will give the present incumbents at least two weeks' notice, and the fact that he has been in office two months and has not made a single change speaks volumes for his desire to do nothing that will impair the efficiency of the service. It is even stated that a longer tenure of office than two weeks will be enjoyed by certain of the present incumbents, whose sudden retirement might throw matters into confusion. Mr. Warmcastle has succeeded in securing the good will of every Democrat now on the force. A COMPLETE BOSTER.

The full list of employes in the Pittsburg office is as follows: Chief deputy, H. J. Mitchell; office deputy, Major J. L. Graham; paymaster, W. B. McCormick; J. M. Lindsey, bookkeeper; J. B. Cox, bond clerk; W. B. Conway, assistant bond cierk; J. A. McPike, stamp clerk; L. H. Pike, Mary E. Roddy, M. W. Franks, William Black and Lizzie Keenan, clerks.

There are nineteen deputies, as follows: J. E.Stillwagon, First division; Samuel Hawthorn, Second division; H. E. Cook, Third division H. A.; Dauglas, Fourth division; Jessie V. Hoover, Fifth division; D. A. Spragg, Sixth Gillespie, Ninth division; J. L. Williamson, Tenth division; J. H. Wilson, Eleventh divi-sion; John Barr, Twelfth division; S. E. Walker, Thirteenth division. Stamp deputies: F. Schlandecker, Erie, Pa.; Wilson Dougherty, Freeport, Pa., and J. S. Jones, Gibsonton, Pa. Of the above six make their headquarters in Pittsburg. Their salaries range from $1,100 to $1,700.

HOLDOVER REPUBLICANS.

Of the entire list, as given, there happen to be two Republicans who held office under and during Collector Bigler's whole term, and the positions happen to be two of the best within the new Collector's gift. H. S. Mitchell is Chief Deputy at present, holding the office next below the Collectorship. Mr. Mitcheli was retained by ex-Collectors Bigler, mainly because of his great familiarity with the affairs of the office. This fact, coupled with Mr. Mitchell's ebony Republicanism, impels many to believe that he will continue as Chief Deputy under the new regime. The same reasons cause the friends of Major James L. Graham to believe that he, too, will continue to grace the position of Office Deputy, although Col-lector Warmeastle has not made the slightest on concerning his intentions in regard to

THE ONLY TWO REPUBLICANS who escaped Collector Bigler's sweep of the Jacksonian office ax. Mr. Mitchell was in the office as far back as in Collector Jackson's time, while no one seems to remember the time when Major Graham was not serving

Uncle Sam.

The extent of the patronage awaiting Mr. sum of $100,000 per annum. In addition to the office force and deputies above enumerated, there are ten clerks whose salaries runge from $900 to $1,800 a year; 25 storekeepers who receive $4 per diem; 19 gaugers whose fees are not exceeding $5 per diem, 30 gentlemen who combine the functions of storekeepers and gaugers, and who, by inverse ratio, receive from $2 to $4 per diem.

THE AMERICAN IRON WORKS. Live Notes of Interest From the Southside-

The Chalamakers Have Been Laid Off but the Nallers Start Up.

The nail factory at Jones & Laughlins American Iron Works started up again yesterday after having been idle since the first of July. The new 26-inch mill of that firm is about ready to commence operations. This is a new denartment the firm have added to their establishment and about 150 men will find employment here. The chainmakers at the American Iron Works have already been idle for three weeks. It was stated last night that the firm have a large stock on hand, but the chainmakers say they are tired of doing nothing. About 50 men are idle.

The polishing mill at the Brownstown works on the Southside is being rebuilt,

The place was formerly a frame structure, where about 350 men are employed. Jones & Laughlins are now putting up an iron building, and while the work is being done not a man in the mill has stopped opera-

A wiry little old man was passing through the corridor of the Court House this afternoon, when he chanced to turn his head. He espied a special police officer at his heels. The old man dodged into the Prothonotary's office, hoping to escape observation; but the officer followed him in, and the pair shortly afterward arrived at the fail.

The arrested man was Dominic Gallagher. once 'Squire of the Fifth ward, and the charge against him was conspiracy, made by Inspector Whitehouse. In a word, it was alleged that Gallagher was one of the Bauder Detective Agency, the principal Bauder Detective Agency, the principal members of which were arrested night before last, for blackmailing East End speakeasies. Gallagher's triends furnished $3,000 hail, and he was released late last night.

Inspector Whitehouse is hot on the trail of Charles Brockert, the only man in the gang now at liberty. Brockert has a police record. One night, four years or thereabouts since, Prof. J. P. Andrews, then principal of the Fourteenth ward school, heard a noise among his chickens. He sallied forth to capture the intruder, who struck him with some heavy weapon and escaped, castle is experiencing trouble in getting his with some heavy weapon and escaped, with some heavy weapon and escaped, leaving Prof. Andrews in an insensible condition. The crime was fastened upon Brockert, who was captured, tried and con-victed, and sojourned with Warden Wright at Riverside for a short term of years. Alderman Hyndman committed to jail yesterday afternoon Charles Volke and Philip Shamburg. The pair were arrested by Inspector Whitehouse at 1:30 o'clock yesterday morning. Three informations had been made against both men. On those charging selling liquor without license and calling liguor without license and calling liguor without license and charging seiling liquor without license and selling liquor on Sundays, bail of $1,000 was asked, and on the charge of keeping a disorderly house, $500 additional, making the total bail $2,500, in default of which both men went to jail. Quite a crowd had assembled at the hearing, and at its conclusion Constable Mor-gan asked Daniel Hines, John Brown and Thomas Grundy to step into the private of-fice. When they complied with the request they were told that they were prisoners on a charge of gambling. Mrs. Jackson brought the information. She asserts that a crowd of young men gather at the black-smith shop of the Castle Shannon Railroad, near the head of the incline, and play cards for money. In the tunnel, which begins at this point, they keep whisky and beer, which they drink and then grow noisy. The accused at once gave bail for a hearing.

DRIVING THEM AWAY.

The Striking Cokers Now Running Things Their Own Way. The following special was received from Connellsville after midnight last night and too late to go in with the other report: The outlook for the strikers is more favorable now than at any other time during the present trouble. The coming out of the men at Youngstown the second time will influence Redstone and Sterling to follow. The men are jubilant and say all of Schoonmaker's works will be idle to-morrow. This afternoon a mob composed chiefly of Hungarlans from works on the Mt. Pleasant branch of the Baltimore and Ohio road, went to the Paull works of W. J. Rainey, on the west side of the Youghiogheny river, and drove the men from the works. They also drove the laborers out who were at work on the new ovens. T. J. Mitchell, the general superintendent, was in the engine house at the time. He kept the mob at bay by a revolver. No one was hurt, nor was there any damage done to the works. The crowd then proceeded to the Clarissa mines, and on the way passed the Nellie works, where the workmen took to their heels on the approach of the strikers. The Huns composing the mob were drunk and wild with anger. The workmen only escaped injury by running away. The outlook for the strikers is more favora

The Pittsburg Coke Washer to be Marketed in European Countries.

John Penny, of No. 1837 Wharton street Southside, sails for Europe on Saturday He will make a tour of Germany, Belgium and Wales to place on the market what is called a "coke washer." It is a patent arrangement and was described in detail by THE DISPATCH some time ago. A string of coke ovens so arranged that a train of cars can be run into them. The slack is dropped into the ovens from the cars by a system of levers. When the coke is ready the patent washer is set to work and the coke is then removed from the ovens by machinery.

CLOUDS OF HOT STEAM

Were Used as a Weapon by an Engineer of the White Hall R. R.

AGAINST DIGGERS OF A GAS MAIN

Trench Workers Throw Down Their Tool and Run for Their Lives.

As early as 7 o'clock yesterday morning the vicinity of South Twenty-first and Sydney streets was the scene of great excitement, caused by trouble between the White Hall Railroad Company and the Monongahela Natural Gas Company. The gas company had several hundred men laying a 30inch gas main along Sydney street, and yesterday morning they intended to lay the pipe underneath the railroad track. But they had evidently reckoned without their White Hall Railroad. The latter had been posted as to the time the men were to commence digging a trench underneath the track, and as soon as the diggers approached the engine came snorting and puffing down the road. Arrived in the middle of the street the iron horse stopped. Then the engineer pulled open the steam valve, and in a few seconds clouds of seething steam came hissing across the renches. The men in the ditch were nearly rightened out of their wits.

host-the engineer of engine No. 360 of the

PRECIPITATE PLIGHT. The Italians and Hungarians threw down he picks and shovels and fled for their lives. The engineer on 360 seemed to enjoy the fun, and continued to blow off volumes of steam until his engine was literally en-veloped in a big white cloud. Then, by way of accompaniment, he blew the engine's

By this time the entire neighborhood had become aroused, and the place was covered with people from all around. The men at work in the treuch came up, and in a few moments thre were several hundred of them surrounding the engine. In the meantime the engineer had "let up" with his sport. The diggers, evidently, believed the engineer had no more steam, and they immedi-ately jumped into the ditch again to resume their work. However, this was apparently what the man on the enginewas waiting for, what the man on the engine was waiting for, and no sooner were the men in the trenches again than another blast of steam came whizzing around their ears.

Then the contending parties began to parley. The employes of the gas company claimed that they had orders to lay the pipe underneath the track, and the engineer asserted as positively that he had orders to prevent them from doing any such thing. In this manner.

FOUR HOURS WERE WASTED. Whenever the men made an attempt to get into the ditch the engineer would re-sume operations with the steam valve. At last the diggers got disgusted, and, putting their tools down, they squatted around on the ground.

"We can wait!" was the expression they hurled at the engineer, with an air of defiance.

"And so can I!" that man replied; and, to emphasize his remark, he blew the whistle again.

Thus the controversy continued until about noon, when the engineer received an order from the superintendent of the railroad to cease operations. That order was effective, but the engineer did not seem to like it.

"Hurrah! hurrah!" yelled the men in the ditches. "We have won the day, after all!"
This was followed by the jeers and laughter of the people as the engine pulled away.
The contractor of the gas company had sent a committee to wait upon the Superintendent of the White Hall Railroad, and the difficulty was settled. It was stated to a reporter last night that the railroad company was afraid trenches underneath the track might dam

Meeting Last Night to Make the Fina

Arrangements. The members of the Randall Club held neeting in the clubhouse, on Sixth avenue, last evening, and made the final arrange ments for their fete champetre, to be give at Silver Lake Grove this afternoon and evening. From the reports received last night the affair will surpass anything the club has yet given. The supply of invita-tions has been exhausted, and it was almost impossible to get one last evening.

At 1 o'clock this afternoon the members will assemble at the club house and march in a body to the Union station. They will parade over the following route: From Sixth to Grant, to Fifth, to Liberty, to Union station where the cars will be Union station, where the cars will be boarded for the grove. The parade will be under the command of General P. N. Guthrie, ex-Adjutant General of the State, and will be headed by the Cathedral Band.

The grove at Silver Lake has been gorgeously decorated for the occasion. The grounds have been put into the best possible condition and there is nothing lacking to make the fate the event of the second possible condition and there is nothing lacking to make the fete the event of the season. Gernert & Guenther's full orchestra will discourse dance music on the large dancing pavilion and the brass band will render promenade and operatic selections on the lawn. In the evening there will be a fireworks display and balloon ascensions. Prominent visitors will be present from surrounding towns, but there will be no speech-making.

IN BROAD DAYLIGHT.

Mrs. Schultz's Bureau Robbed By Men She

Tried to Detain. Yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock daring robbery took place at August Schultz's house, No. 476 East street, Allegheny. Two men entered the bouse and stole $10 from a bureau in the front room. The robbers missed a large amount of money and also a gold watch and chain, which were in the same drawer, being frightened by the sudden appearance of Mrs. Schultz. The lady made an effort to hold the men until the police should arrive, but

She gave Officer Shooner a description of them, and a man was arrested in the even-ing. Mrs. Schultz failed to identify him and he was released.

ITS PUBLICATION PROCEEDS.

That $4,000 Pamphlet About Asse is in Preparation All Right-Assessor

Case Explains. The interview with Mr. Lambie in yesterday's DISPATCH relative to the delay publishing the list of assessments has brought out a statement from the chief clerk, who says the work is being pushed as rapidly as possible. When the reporter called at the office to ascertain the cause for the delay he was informed that Assessors Case, Larkin and Hoerr were absent THE DISPATCH correspondent in Har-risburg yesterday found Mr. Came, however, and sends the following explanation from AN ENGINE AS A WEAPON IN A HOT WAR Mr. Case:

Chief Assessor Frank Case is here for the State Convention. He had read the complaint of a real estate dealer in to-day's DISPATCH about delay in publishing a list of the triennial assessment in pamphlet form. In reply Mr. Case says: "The requirements of the new city charter and the ordinance thereunder have been and are being carried out to the letter. My whole force of clerks has been busy on the copy for this pamphlet. To prepare such a table for the printers is an enormous task. That is why it has taken so long to finish. But I have urged the work to such an extent that the pamphlet will be in type by the end of this month. I think there are only eight wards that remain to be copied by the clerks. The balance have all been tabulated with the exception of filling in the tax calculations on the blank. The books and tables in the Board of Assessory office are open to the inspection of any citizen, and I am only sorry that real estate owners and Councilmen did not come and see how the work is progressing before rushing into print." Chief Assessor Frank Case is here for the work is progressing before rushing into print."

There isn't any doubt that the ordinance was passed, as Controller Morrow exhibits it, but it does seem strange that people interested did not know it. Mr. Lambie is known as a gentleman who is not only an attentive member of Councils who takes a deep interest in everything done there, and who is also financially interested, and at noon yesterday he was still oblivious to the fact of an ordinance having been passed to regulate the matter. Mr. Quinn is also a man who pays close attention to municipal legislation, and he, yesterday noon, at least, legislation, and he, yesterday noon, at least, had not learned of the passage of the ordi-

Controller Morrow does not appear to be Controller Morrow Goes not appear to be in love with the law requiring the publication, putting his objections on the score of expense. He figures that the cost of 1,000 copies will be $5,000 or $4,000, and he states that those who argued for publication, when the charter was being prepared, are not those generally supposed.

TWO MEN OVERCOME.

A Flow of Natural Gas Almost Suffee Two East End Workmen. Last night, about 7:30, Daniel McNamara and James Sheeran, two employes of the East End Gas Company were almost suffocated by an escape of gas. They were making a connection in the artificial gas mains at the corner of Center avenue and Neville street, when the flow of gas over-powered them. A boy who was looking on saw how matters stood and ran for help. The two men tried to get out of the hele, but, overcome by the gas, fell back. Some gentlemen living in the neighborhood then rushed to the rescue and succeeded in pulling the men out, just in time to save their lives. Dr. Diggert, of the East End, was summoned, and speedily brought the men back to their senses, after which they were carried to their homes.

THE RESULT OF ACCIDENT.

The Coroner Renders Verdicts in the Many Late Sudden Deaths.

Coroner McDowell held an inquest yes terday on the bodies of Harry Simmons, Edward Debor and Leslie Benbow, who were drowned at the foot of Thirteenth street on Monday. A verdict of accidental death was rendered. A like verdict was rendered in the case of John Cæsar, who was smothered by sewer gas in the Eighteenth ward.

In the case of Thomas Keating, drowned at the foot of Thirtieth street while playing on a raft, there was a similar verdict. A Row in Polish Row.

Two little fellows in Polish row, on the Southside, caused quite a disturbance among their parents yesterday afternoon. The boys had been quarreling, and Johnny Luckawolski got hold of another boy and chewed his arm. The boy who was bitten is called Fossett. The latter's mother went to complain to the father of Luckawolski, out the man got mad and a general row was the result. Mrs. Fossett then went to Alderman Succop and sued the boy and his father for disorderly conduct.

A Stolen Box of Plate Found. Early yesterday morning a large box filled with sterling silver plated knives and forks of value, was found on the track of the Allegheny Valley Railroad, near Thirty-first street. The box contained over 125 pounds of silverware, and is valued at over $70. Being brought to the Central station it was found to belong to Goddard, Hill & Co., of this city.

The new organ for the Southside Presbyerian Church arrived last night from Boston, and the instrument will be put up to-day. It is one of the finest Roseweld organs, and cost $3,250. The organ will be played for the first time at an organ concert to be held in the church next week.

And Chairman Andrews Will Succeed Himself for Another Year.

DELEGATES OFF TO HARRISBURG.

Him in the Northwest,

The Republican State Convention will be held in Harrisburg to-day, and the straggling delegates from this section left last evening. It is conceded by almost everybody that Speaker Boyer will have a walkover for the nomination of State Treasurer and there will be no opposition to the re-election of State Chairman Andrews. The latter has demonstrated his ability to handle the Republican forces with some help, and will be his own successor. Among the delegates who went to Harrisburg last night were E. Wertheimer, W. W. Speer, County Controller Speer, Arthur Kennedy, Mr. Smithly, Deputy Sheriff John Doyle, Representative Hayes, of Oil City, E. W. Smiley, Journal Clerk of the House and editor of the Citizens' Press of Franklin; James Sayres, Esq., of Waynesburg, J. F. Cooper and E. F. Acheson, of

"I suppose," said Mr. Westheimer, "about all we will do is go through the motions of holding a convention. There is no fight on hand and Speaker Boyer will doubtless be nominated by acclamation. I want it said that the liquor men want nothing, and are only too anxious to have their business kept out of politics. It is not true that they intend to capture the next Legis-lature for the purpose of modifying the Brooks law. The law is satisfactory to the liquor men if it is rigidly enforced. All we ask is to be left alone and no effort will be platform."

The delegates were all for Boyer, and the talks naturally drifted to the coming gubernatorial contest next year. Mr. Smiley and Representative Hayes are for Delamater. When asked if Delamater was made of the proper stuff, Mr. Hayes replied that he could certainly not do any worse than Beaver, which was not saying very much.

"After all," he continued, "the Republicans have had no great Governor since Andrew Curtin's time. Geary was a windbag, and the others were not much better. I am and the others were not much better. I am wofully disappointed with the present in-

DELAMATER IN THE NORTHWEST. On this subject, Mr. Smiley said: "I think Delamater is the strongest of any of the candidates in the field at the present time, and he will have the support of Northwestern Pennsylvania. The chances are that none of the men talked of now will be taken, and some dark horse will be se-lected. It is usually the case that a man held up as a candidate for a long time before the people makes enemies and stirs up factions. Pattison is the best man the Democrats could nominate, but ex-Con-gressman Scott. of Wile would be gressman Scott, of Erie, would be the hardest man to beat. He would go into the fight to win, and his boodle would be a mighty power. Reyburn and Montooth would be an acceptable and strong ticket. Senator Reyburn is honest and able, and would make a good Governor."

Mr. Sayres, of Waynesburg, said he was for Hastings for Governor and Mr. Ache.

Thousands of Fares.

It may not be generally known that a cab containing from $1,000 to $1,500 in cash makes its way at noon from Penn avenue along Sixth and Market streets to N. Holmes & Sons' Bank each day, except Sunday; but it is true. The money is what Delamater's Friends Make Big Claims for the dear public pays in nickels and dimes to the white-capped conductors on the Citizens' traction line.

As each car stops at the Cecil alley termi-LIQUOR MEN WILL NOT MAKE A FIGHT nus the conductor goes into the offices and does promptly in a few moments what it takes many other persons a long time to do -settles up. The receiver notes the number of the car, the amount, etc., and is ready for another prompt paying customer. When the day's business is over he finds that there is accumulated before him quite a sum, and most of it in that cold, hard form so objecmost of it in that cold, hard form so objectionable and yet so pleasing. Coppers, nickels, dimes, quarters, halves and dollars lie piled up before him, while there is also a good stack of paper money.

At noon a cab is brought around, the money piled in and is taken to the bank named. On Monday two days' receipts are hauld off, and as Sunday is not at all a bak day for the scale contributions of the college.

day for the cable cars the value of the cab load it somewhat larger than usual. As one of the conductors said, "Business must be picking up, for they used to carry the money to the bank."

On the Penn avenue cable line there are at present running about 20 yellow cars and 22 red cars. A conductor of a yellow car says that he will turn in an average of $25 daily, while a gentleman on a red car said he punched about $37 worth of holes in slips every day. This makes a total of about $1,300 which is considered an average day's business. The Sharpsburg horsecar line is not included in this.

One of the tonductors on the line, who has been riding on Butler street for six years, said that he kept a record of the number of passengers he carried. During the first year after the introduction of the registers he collected nickels for 265,000 persons, and in 18 months was responsible for the care and cash of $65,000 passengers, thus showing an inclease of about $3,000 over the previous six months.

A GUINEA PIG FARM.

Capitalists May Engage in Business Breeding the Pets.

A STOCK COMPANY TO BE FORMED. The Demand for Them is Expected to Come

From Physicians

WHO THINK THE ELIXIR A SUCCESS

There is talk of a scheme to form a company in this city for the purpose of breeding and raising guines pigs on an extensive scale. The idea is to organize a stock company, buy a piece of land and breed the little animals so as to secure their tissue, to be used in making injections into the human system according to the Brown-Sequard discovery for renewing or stimulating of life. The capital stock of the company, if formed, is to be $25,000. They intend to lease a piece of ground at once and begin operations as soon as possible. Several thousand of the pigs will, in that event, be brought from Norway and Sweden, where the best breeds of the world are to be found; the farm will be stocked with them, and, as soon as the young ones are raised, the older ones will be marketed to physicians and others who desire their life-stimulating tis-

The above information was given a DIS-PATCH reporter yesterday, and it is very probable that there is a grain of truth in it. A gentleman who is well-known on account of his readiness to go into any promising scheme, approached Major Howard Morton and asked him to take some stock in it. The Major asked for the prospectus of the company, and, as soon as it is finished, he will consider the matter. Some people, when spoken to, thought the scheme was a joke, but the gentleman who is working it thinks otherwise. At present he desires his name to be kept out of the matter. He has the utmost faith in the Brown-Sequard discovery, he says, and thinks the supply of guinea pigs will run short within a few months. For this reason he is agitating the idea of forming the company to aid them.

The guinea pigs used by the Pittsburg physician who has been making the experiments cost a leach. They are very difficult to raise, except on a large farm, with uniform treatment, when they thrive. They feed on cabbage, potatoes and all kinds of vegetables. In the city it is extremely hard to raise them, as they are very delicate. Considering the price and the fact of their of his readiness to go into any promising

Band Wrangle. At the Exposition managers' meeting yesterday $30,000 was voted to Mr. Mar-shall on his Power Hall contract. It was decided that those having space allotted to them be allowed to commence the rough work around their stands, such as building platforms and so on. Manager Johnston is also anxious that all persons who have been allotted space, and who may have changed their minds and do not intend to use it, to notify him, so that the space may be given to others who are waiting.

Prof. B. Weiss, leader of the Great Western Band, called on Manager Johnston yesterday in reference to the action of the German Trades Assembly, taken at their meeting last Sunday. The Professor reviewed the trouble at the County Centennial that resulted in the members of his band resigning from the M. M. P. U. He denied that the band, as an organization, had been expelled from the union, but said they were all members of the Allegheny County Massical Union, an organization composed of artists in the profession.

Mr. Johnston told Prof. Weiss that the Great Western Band had been engaged on its merits as musicians, and not as members of any labor organization. As the band holds a life membership in the Exposition Society, it is likely it will be retained, ern Band, called on Manager Johnston yes-
